Washington, Feb. 23 (AP)—The United States has protested against Bulgaria's arrest of 15 Protestant churchmen as a "blatant terrorist effort" to intimidate religious denomi-

The State Department said today a formal note of protest was delivered to Bulgaria on Monday at Sofia.

It was rejected outright by Bulgaria's Communist government almost immediately, the Department reported.

The Protestant churchmen are accused of spying for the U. S. and Britain and are scheduled to go on trial Friday at Sofia.

The Bulgarian government says it has confessions from some of the accused.

The strongly worded American protest asked that Bulgaria permit representatives of the U. S. legation to attend the trial.

BULLETINS

Rhodes, Feb. 23 (AP)—Israel and Egypt will sign an armistice agreement at a ceremony here tomorrow, ending their war in Palestine and opening the way for an overall peace between the new Jewish state and the Arab world.

The Egyptian delegation which negotiated for 42 days with the Israelis brought from Cairo today its government's favorable answer to the armistice worked out under United Nations auspices.

Washington, Feb. 23 (AP)—A spokesman for coal mine operators told Congress today that a 30 to 50-day miners' strike would put the country in a "very serious situation."

Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers association, was arguing to the Senate Labor committee that there is need for the Taft-Hartley law provision which lets the government get 80-day court orders against critical strikes.

Washington, Feb. 23 (AP)—"Axis Sally" took the witness stand today in her treason trial and launched into the play-by-play story of her life. It stressed her unsuccessful struggle for success as an actress and finally her leaving this country for Africa in 1933. That was a decade before the wartime broadcasts over the German radio in which the government bases the treason charges.

Nanking, Feb. 23 (AP)—A group of China's lawmakers today threatened to oust Premier Sun Fo. Sun and the cabinet fled to Canton last month. Some legislators say the flight was illegal. They want the premier and cabinet back here. The premier, so far, has refused to return.

NEW YORK GIRL WINS PIE TITLE

Chicago, Feb. 23 (AP)—Betty Latimer, year-old Fredonia, N. Y., high school senior, Tuesday won the 1949 national red cherry pie baking contest. The pie queen will present a cherry pie to President Truman in Washington Thursday.

The first prize included a $150 check and the trip to Washington.

Mardelle Clarkson, 16, of De Pere, Wis., received $75 for second place; Sara Sue Phegley, 15, Carlisle, Ind., $50 third; Pat Loudon, 17, Kent, Wash., $40 fourth; and Arleta Leach, 16, Kalispell, Mont., $25 fifth.

Judging was limited to the first five places. Dorothy Jo Fields, 17, of New Cumberland, Pa., who won Pennsylvania title at Gettysburg, said she'd been taking the last six or seven years. "After I entered the contest through our school cooking class, I baked more than 100 cherry pies. Some my family ate. The others I sold at 55 cents each to neighbors. The money I obtained from the sales I used to get more ingredients for more pies," Miss Fields said.

FRACTIONAL GAINS ON MART

New York, Feb. 23 (AP)—An early try at higher price levels didn't make much headway in the stock market today. For a while fractional gains were in a majority. Before noon, though, buying interest faded and prices were clipped all along the line. In some cases minus signs replaced plus. Trading was just as slow on the way down as on the way up. Today's relapse followed three sessions in which the general level of prices slipped a trifle.

BOOST BUDGET TO PAY SHARE OF NEW STREET

The Biglerville borough council has adopted what is probably its largest budget in some time, but most of the money will go to pay off last year's street building program, Earl E. Ecker, secretary of the council revealed today.

The budget lists expenditures of $17,765.51. Of that amount, approximately $12,800 will go to the state as the town's part of payment for the new main street constructed last summer, Mr. Ecker pointed out.

Included in the income for last year will be a balance of $6,885.28 from last year, and a special assessment of $6,000, which will make up the funds owed to the state for the street. The assessment will mark the collection of the $1 per foot assessed against residents along the main street under the ordinance passed last year when the town agreed to go ahead with the reconstruction of the main street.

Receipts other than the special assessment and the balance are expected to include taxes, $4,067.85; prior taxes, $75; miscellaneous, including county aid, fines, building permits and the like, $737.38.

The borough has also voted to continue its eight mill tax.

Expenditures Listed

Expenditure include $354.50 for general administration, $175 to the tax collector, $500 for police activities, such as the traffic lights, hiring of special police for special occasions and the like; $1,500 for fire protection including hydrant rent and purchase of hose and other equipment for the fire company; $100 for the board of health; $13,836.01 for streets and bridges, including the $12,800 due the state; $1,200 for street lights, and $100 for miscellaneous purposes. The budget provides for no balance to be left over for the next year.

The budget also shows $215.36 in the highway fund from state appropriations and lists an expected $215.36 from that source. The entire amount is allocated for street repairs.

Next meeting of the council will be held March 8.

L. W. KUHN GIVEN GROUP 5 HONOR

Lloyd W. Kuhn, cashier of the Benderville National bank, was named to the executive committee of Group 5 of the Pennsylvania Bankers' association at its 52nd annual meeting Tuesday at Harrisburg.

The bankers heard Ralph Bradford, executive vice president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, declare in an address Tuesday that American business wants a return to the belief that the people should support the government, not the reverse.

Mr. Bradford told nearly 1,000 bankers that a "return to intellectual honesty, belief and practice of solvency, greater production, and an international policy based not on appeasement but strength and generosity" are other needs.

Earlier, delegates were assured that "there is no fear that this country is going to the bow-wow."

C. A. Sienkiewicz, president of the Central-Penn National bank, Philadelphia, made the statement. He added: "A business depression is not likely to come within 12 months unless there is restriction of business or an increase in taxes."

Russell B. Carmany, executive vice president of the Farmers Trust company, Lebanon, was elected as the new chairman of the group at its one-day meeting. Harry S. Smeltzer, Harrisburg, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Named to the Executive committee in addition to Mr. Kuhn were John E. Myers, Lemoyne, chairman; Jesse E. Smith, Windsor, Columbia; C. A. W. Stouffer, Chambersburg; M. K. Huber, Hershey, and E. S. Spackman, Lewistown.

Firestone Rites Set For Friday

Funeral services for John E. Firestone, 69, who died Monday morning at his home, York Springs R. 2, will be held Friday at 1:30 p. m. from the Pittenburgh funeral home, York Springs, conducted by the Rev. Ralph Meekley. Interment in the Barrens cemetery, York county.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

MARK ANNIVERSARY

Toxaway council No. 288 of the Degree of Pocomatons celebrated its 23rd anniversary Monday night with a program at the Odd Fellows hall. Mrs. Myrtle Byers, deputy, and 12 members of Uncas council No. 100 of Waynesboro, were present. A covered dish luncheon was served and games played.

DAR Observes February 22

Members of the Gettysburg chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution celebrated Washington's birthday anniversary Tuesday evening with a special program at the home of Mrs. Kermit Heret, Hanover street. About 30 attended with the regent, Miss Alice Black, presiding.

Miss Virginia Troxell read a number of sayings of George Washington and then Mrs. J. E. Musselman read a humorous poem on "Good Old Times."

Washington's farewell address to his army was read by Mrs. John A. Munner.

Miss Mildred Stoner read a number of stories about Washington as "a planter to Virginia" chiefly concerning the home life of the first president, taken from the book "George Washington: Farmer" by Paul Leland Haworth. The meeting closed with George Washington's prayer, led by Mrs. Homer Young.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Mark A. Eckert, Mrs. Robert Wills, Mrs. G. W. Lefever, Mrs. H. M. Hartman, Mrs. M. K. Eckert, Mrs. J. E. Musselman, Mrs. George Thrush, Jr., and Mrs. John J. Augustine.

LITTLESTOWN

DEVELOPMENT OF ALASKA TRACED FOR ROTARIANS

Henry Thomas, Gettysburg, was the speaker for the weekly meeting of the Littlestown Rotary club, Tuesday evening in Schott's banquet hall. His topic was, "Alaska: Its Development and the Customs of the People." The speaker showed an extensive display of souvenirs made of whole bone and ivory, and some early implements found in an igloo, which had evidently been buried for centuries. Mr. Thomas was introduced by Luther W. Ritter, who had charge of the program.

President Luther D. Snyder presided over the business session. There was one visiting rotarian, P. W. Stallsmith from the Gettysburg club. W. H. Marshman presented the guest package received by A. W. Schott. George P. Smith had charge of the singing in the absence of the song leader, Rev. David S. Kammerer. Next week, there will be a classification talk in charge of the Vocational Service committee of (Please Turn to Page 6)

4 Coeds To Take Course After All

The Franklin county and Adams county Red Cross chapters have cooperated to make sure that four Gettysburg college co-eds will not miss an opportunity to secure their Red Cross Water Safety Instructor certificates.

The four, Betty Lou Dinger, Helen Knubel, Gail Grogan and Lois Jane Mehling, were planning to take the water safety course to be held by the Adams county Red Cross at the college here in April. They needed the certificates in order to accept positions at summer camps that had been offered them.

Then came a hitch. All four are members of the Gettysburg college choir, which plans to be on tour at the time the local water safety course will be held.

They faced the choice of quitting the choir or forgetting about their summer jobs. They asked the local Red Cross what they should do.

A few phone calls solved the problem. The four will join the water safety course being held by the Franklin county Red Cross at Wilson college starting February 28. Their physical education instructor at Gettysburg college, Miss Grace Kenney, promised to drive the girls to Chambersburg each evening for the course there, and the instruction there will be given by the same person who is scheduled to present the instruction at Gettysburg, William Bailey, Jr., water safety field representative for the Eastern area, American Red Cross.

The course here will begin April 4.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Admissions to the Warner hospital include Edwin Spicer, Gettysburg R. 4; Mrs. Oliver Welker, New Oxford; Mrs. Charles Bollinger, Emmitsburg; Mrs. Norman Snyder, Littlestown; Alva L. Stoner, Orrtanna; Mrs. Fern R. Ohler, Emmitsburg; and Marshall Sanders, 122 West High street. Those discharged were Mrs. James H. Allison and infant son, James Henry, Jr., Emmitsburg; Mrs. Wilbur Rudisill, Jr., and infant daughter, Linda Jean, Gettysburg R. 1, and Mrs. Garland Gillespie and infant daughter, Connie Elizabeth, Littlestown.

FIVE DISTRICT LEADERS LIST R.C. SOLICITORS

Five district chairmen for the annual Red Cross fund campaign which opens Sunday and is to be completed in one week announced their staffs of solicitors today.

S. F. Swope, chairman of the campaign in the business district of Gettysburg; Mrs. Donald Sheely and Mrs. George Gilbert, who head the drive in rural Adams county; Mrs. Franklin Miller and Mrs. Helen Millhimes, New Chester section; Mrs. David E. Winebrenner, New Oxford, and Mrs. Kermit Deardorff, Cashtown, listed today their complete corps of workers for the Red Cross canvass.

Richard E. Dreas and Philip M. Jones, co-chairmen of the drive in the county, today urged other district heads to complete their recruiting of helpers as promptly as possible and report the names to Red Cross headquarters.

Drive Opens Sunday

With an organization that will cover every community in the county, the county chapter hopes to reach its $11,155 goal in a one-week, all-out campaign.

Taking advantage of good weather, some of the solicitors in rural Adams county have started their canvass this week.

Red Cross Sunday, February 27, will be observed in the churches of the county this Sunday and will serve as the official kick-off for the drive.

HUSBANDS ARE GUESTS OF CLUB

The Soroptimists entertained their husbands and friends at their annual "Soroptimist Dinner" at the Peace Light Inn Tuesday night, with 40 present. Corsages and table decorations, arranged by Glenn Musselman, Jr., carried out a red, white and blue motif.

A large centerpiece of similar pattern was presented by Judge and Mrs. W. C. Sheely who were unable to be present. Judge Sheely is considered as the official "Mister" of the club, having served as toastmaster and attended the formal functions of the club since its inception. Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler served as toastmaster.

Mrs. Fred Seagle and Mrs. H. H. Reuning played several piano duets. Rev. G. R. Stoneback, Fairfield, gave an entertaining address on "Amusing Experiences in the Ministry." Members gave their classifications and introduced their guests.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Bitner and Miss Grace Brandon, Chambersburg, and Mrs. Stoneback. Mrs. Bitner is president of the Soroptimist club of Chambersburg.

The dinner was arranged by Mrs. Seagle, Mrs. Donald Myers, Mrs. Violet Hill and Miss Kathryn Knouse.

INJURED IN FALL

Mrs. Marguerita Bollinger, 46, Emmitsburg, was admitted to the Warner hospital this morning following a fall through a barn floor. Both hips may be fractured.

TO BE DINNER GUEST

Judge W. C. Sheely will be a guest of the Dauphin County Bar Association at its annual dinner in the Hershey Hotel, Hershey, Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Littlestown School Pupils To Get Physical Examinations On Monday; Meningitis Outbreak

Littlestown health authorities announced today that children excluded from school due to medical examinations under the emergency check-up now being conducted in the Littlestown Joint school system and who will or have been included in the three-day observation period, should report Monday morning to the Littlestown high school building on Maple avenue for physical examinations.

Pupils not enrolled in the Littlestown joint district during the past week resulted in the above health measures being taken, Paul E. King, supervising principal of the district, said today.

Four cases of meningitis in the Littlestown joint district during the past week resulted in the above health measures being taken, Paul E. King, supervising principal of the district, said today.

Children found suffering from colds, sore throat, or with temperatures, were sent home this week as emergency precautions in preventing the spread of the disease.

Truck Sideswipes Car On Wet Road

A truck operated by Anthony J. Jarjela, 28, of Scranton, and an automobile driven by Robert Chapman, 31, Orrtanna R. 1, collided midway between Cashtown and Orrtanna at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, state police of the Gettysburg substation, reported.

Jarjela's truck skidded on the wet roadway and sideswiped Chapman's car, according to the report. No one was injured. Damage to the truck was estimated at $250 and to the automobile at $500.

FIREMEN ASKING EARLY START ON PARADE FLOATS

The committee of the Gettysburg Fire company in charge of festivities here July 1, 2, 3 and 4 celebrating the 86th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg today urged countians and others to begin consideration of ideas for floats to appear in a parade during the period.

James S. Shenk, chairman of the committee, pointed out that "the occasion should lend itself to the development of many beautiful, historic and topical floats. Such floats would be a means of participation by every organization and many groups of individuals in properly recognizing the one period that is truly Gettysburg's—the anniversary of the battle which decided the fate of our America."

Suggest Float Themes

Shenk said that it is hoped by the committee that some funds may be available for prizes, but pointed out that the interest of the community in such a project will determine what prizes may be given, as well as what types of floats might appear in the parade.

The committee pointed out that "other communities have distinguished themselves by the type and quality of floats that appear in parades on dates sacred to those communities. We can do the same here. The battle, the battlefield, the National cemetery here, Lincoln, the fruit belt through the county, the county's history, modern history, all can be used as basic themes for floats. With the cooperation of the community, the finest parade in history could be put on here as part of the celebration of the 86th anniversary of the battle."

A number of other activities have also been scheduled for the four-day period by the committee in charge, and it has asked countians to make suggestions concerning activities that would help to enhance the celebration of the borough's "most famous four days."

Odd Fellows Are Hosts To Ladies

Fifty attended the Ladies' night program held Tuesday evening by the local Odd Fellows at the IOOF home on Chambersburg street.

Samuel Sollenberger presented two motion pictures "Adventures in Research" and "America, the Beautiful." The program opened with the singing of "America" by the assembly and invocation by Frank Dougherty. Refreshments were served. The committee in charge of the event included Harold Reuning, George Coshun and T. J. Winebrenner.

WED AT NEW OXFORD

Glenn Sutlaf Kauffman, Jr., Bristol, and Betty Jane Kipe, Fountain Dale, were married Monday at New Oxford by Justice of the Peace Claude Straley, according to a return made to the county clerk of courts.

WILL PROBATED

The will of Lillie Gettler Reaver, Benderville, has been entered for probate at the office of the county register and recorder, Roy C. Gettler, Biglerville, and Mrs. Ruth G. House, Benderville, are executors.

R.C. OFFICES WILL BE OPEN DURING DRIVE

Offices of the county Red Cross chapter opposite the post office on Baltimore street will be open each day and evening next week during the annual Red Cross drive for funds, it was announced Tuesday evening at the quarterly meeting of the chapter directors.

Staff assistants headed by Mrs. LeRoy H. Winebrenner, will be on hand to handle the reports and contributions turned in by the scores of solicitors who will go to work Monday morning in all parts of the county.

Mrs. Albert Bachman, chapter chairman, presided over the meeting at which Red Cross services of the last few months—highlighted by home service activities in which veterans and servicemen and their families were the chief beneficiaries—were reported.

Activities Are Announced

Activities in the months immediately ahead were outlined. They include water safety and first aid courses, nutrition advisory service to families, continuation of Junior Red Cross activities and all of the other departments of Red Cross service to the county.

Philip M. Jones, co-chairman for the annual fund campaign, spoke briefly before the group and Paul L. Spangler presented the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Elizabeth Pennington, executive secretary, reported 91 home service cases in December and January with the great majority of them involving veterans and servicemen and their families. There was a discussion of home service policy and Mrs. Pennington said the home service committee expects to prepare a written statement to guide the operation of that branch of Red Cross service here.

Meet Next In May

The two-day disaster preparedness conference here last month was described "very successful" by area Red Cross. Mrs. Francis Mason reported on home nursing courses being given in six high schools.

Mrs. Bachman and Mrs. Pennington were named delegates to represent the chapter at the Atlantic City national convention June 27 to 30. After a discussion the board voted against any change in the present policy of the Red Cross which bans participation in joint fund raising efforts in industries.

The board will meet next on May 24.

ROBERT WEAVER EXPIRES IN YORK

Robert R. Weaver, 63, Gettysburg R. 4, died at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Philip L. Eyster, 1023 West King street, York, at 6:30 o'clock this morning, of complications.

He was born in Adams county, a son of the late George Weaver and Lydia Longenecker Weaver. He was a school director in Straban township for eight years, and a member of St. John's Reformed church, New Chester.

He leaves his widow, the former Miss Norway Trimmer, to whom he was married for 43 years and three daughters, Mrs. Philip Eyster, Mrs. Alice MacKley, York, and Mrs. Roland Adams, Gettysburg R. D., and three grandchildren.

WALTER CASKEY DIES SUDDENLY THIS MORNING

Walter E. Caskey, 35, Marsh Creek Heights, died at 3:50 o'clock this morning of a heart attack while en route to the Warner hospital in the ambulance. Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner, pronounced death due to coronary occlusion.

Mr. Caskey, a veteran of World War II, who was employed as a cook at the Moose home, had been in his usual health and worked Tuesday, retiring about 9:30 o'clock Tuesday night. He was stricken at 3 a. m. A physician was called and he was being rushed to the hospital, being pronounced dead upon arrival.

He was born in York county, a son of Mrs. Isabelle Caskey and the late George Caskey. He served a three-year enlistment in the army before World War II, in the machine gun troop of the Third Cavalry, Ft. Myer, and was on duty at Walter Reed hospital, Washington, D. C., when discharged.

Funeral Saturday

He was inducted in June, 1943, and served as a private and ambulance driver in the 428th Medical Collecting company during the war. He trained at Camp Pickett, Va., and Camp Blakeley, Texas, before going overseas in 1944.

Mr. Caskey was a member of the Presbyterian church, the Loyal Order of Moose and Albert J. Lentz Post No. 202, the American Legion.

He is survived by his wife, the former Irene A. Hilly, to whom he had been married for 11 years; his mother, and these brothers and sisters: Norman Caskey, near Philadelphia; Charles Caskey, Fairfield; Goldie Caskey, Hanover; Mrs. Rosetta Malon, Bentley, La.; Helen Caskey, Gettysburg R. D.; John Caskey, Dillsburg R. D., and Albert Caskey, Atlanta, Ga.

Funeral services Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the Bender funeral home, the Rev. Clyde R. Brown officiating with burial in the Gettysburg National cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Friday evening after 7 o'clock.

Wagnild To Direct High Schools' Choir

Parker B. Wagnild, director of the Gettysburg college choir, and head of the music department at the college, has been chosen to direct the Cumberland County High School chorus in its annual music festival in Shippensburg March 3 at 7:30 p. m.

The choir comprises 150 mixed voices chosen from high school choruses in Cumberland county which each year presents a music festival. Mr. Wagnild will rehearse the choir on March 2 and afternoon of March 3, supplementing rehearsals now being held in that county.

County Baseball League Will Meet

The Adams County Baseball league will meet Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock to organize for the coming season, it was announced today. Officers and representatives of teams in the league will gather at the Albert J. Lentz American Legion home for the session. Among the business of the evening will be the naming of officers for the coming year.

Birth Announcements

Mr. and Mrs. Fern R. Ohler, Emmitsburg, announce the birth of a daughter at the Warner hospital Tuesday.

Good Evening

A cynic is a man who looks down on those above him.

FOUR COUNTIANS APPREHENDED ON THEFT CHARGES

State and county authorities Tuesday arrested four countians on larceny charges for thefts they said ranged from automobile tires and gasoline to milk bottles stolen from doorsteps. They were committed to jail pending hearings before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

The roundup Tuesday by State Policeman James Walsh and Sheriff Dorsey Schultz marked the second time in recent weeks that arrests have been made for thefts of articles from parked automobiles. Three other county youths arrested in January by borough police are serving sentences in the Adams county jail.

Four Are Arrested

Walsh gave the names of those arrested Tuesday as: Elmer F. Currans, 24, of Gettysburg R. 4; James William Abell, Jr., 19, of 422 South Washington street; Robert Harri Deardorff, 18, of Orrtanna R. 1, and Howard John Shultz, Jr., 20, of Gettysburg R. 2. Shultz, police said, lives with a sister, but also has a room in Gettysburg.

Currans, Abell and Shultz are charged with stealing five gallons of gasoline from a truck owned by Roy Goldsmith, North Stratton street, while the truck was parked in the rear of the Battlefield hotel Monday night. On the same night they are also alleged to have taken a wheel and tire belonging to Russell Sharrar, Orrtanna; a side mirror from a car in Benderville, and eight quarts of milk from doorsteps in Gettysburg.

This was the only occasion, Walsh said, when Shultz was with the "gang," so far as has been able to learn in the investigation to date.

Alleged Theft Dates

On February 15, Currans, Abell and Deardorff are alleged to have stolen gasoline from a tractor owned by Clifford Biesacker, Orrtanna, and (Please Turn to Page 5)

TRUMAN SCORES CRITICISM OF MILITARY AIDE

Washington, Feb. 23 (AP) — Critics of his administration had personal and blunt notice today from President Truman that no blanket-blank is going to influence his appointments.

Some 200 persons — members of the Reserve Officers Association and their wives — heard Mr. Truman deliver that startling pronouncement in an earthy, matter-of-fact, impromptu talk last night at a dinner honoring Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, his military aide.

The diners were brought to sharp attention as Mr. Truman departed from his home, neighborly style and turned to artillery language:

"Now, I'm just as fond and just as loyal to my military aide as I am to the high brass, and I want you to distinctly understand that any (name deleted by editor) who thinks he can cause any of those people to be discharged by me, by some smart aleck statement over the air or in the paper, he has got another thing coming."

"I Do The Moving"

"No commentator or columnist names any members of my cabinet, or my staff. I name them myself, and when it is time for them to be moved on, I do the moving, — nobody else."

The official transcript of Mr. Truman's off-the-cuff talk, released later by the White House, omitted any reference to the offensive letters used. Mr. Truman used only the initials, without spelling out what they stand for.

Mr. Truman drove five miles to the Army-Navy country club in Arlington, Va., to join other speakers in praise of Vaughan.

Maj. Gen. Edward P. Whitesell, Adjutant General of the Army, said the military aide's job was "difficult" and "not all parades and balls, Drew Pearsons and decorations."

Pearson, radio commentator and columnist, has criticized Vaughan for accepting a decoration from President Peron of Argentina.

He stood outside the Argentine embassy the night the medal was presented, taking down the names of those attending.

Afterward, Pearson said that while this country is spending billions abroad to help democracy, and "while President Truman has spoken thousands of words about saving democracy, his military aide partly nullified this talk — and money — by accepting a high decoration from a military dictator who has ridiculed all the things that Truman talks about."

Mr. Truman made no reference to Pearson in his brief talk.

College Swimmers Bow To Dickinson

The Gettysburg college swimming team lost to Dickinson in the latter's tank at Carlisle Tuesday afternoon 46-29.

Gettysburg gained two first places, Dick Carouthers winning the 50-yard free style while the 400-yard relay free style team won that event. Despite turning in his best time this year for the 100-yard free-style, 58.8, Carouthers was forced to take second place behind the Dickinson winner who turned in a mark of 57.4.

Loudenslager was second in the 220 and 440 while Ed Muehlbach was second in the 200-yard breaststroke, making his best time for the event this year, 2:58.

On Saturday the Bullets will engage in a triangular meeting with Dickinson and F. and M. at Lancaster.

Toot Of Whistle Frightens Robbers

Philadelphia, Feb. 23 (AP) — A toy whistle blown by a 14-year-old boy caused two robbers to flee from a jewelry store with $840 in loot, leaving behind $3,000 in cash.

Meyer Spungen, 43-year-old owner of the jewelry store, told detectives that while the two robbers were holding him at gunpoint yesterday, a suspicious bystander outside told Gus Paulano, 14, to run for help.

Instead of running, young Gus tooted his whistle. The startled robbers fled with $200 in cash and jewelry valued at $640. The $3,000 they missed was in an open safe.

NEW YORK EGGS

New York, Feb. 23 (AP) — Egg prices were higher today in the wholesale market.

TWO BLASTS OWN LEADERS

Philadelphia, Feb. 23 (AP) — The rumble of an insurgent group within local 234, Transport Workers Union (CJO) could still be heard today as an aftermath of the 10-day transit strike.

The blow-up within the ranks of the local TWU came yesterday as the unit's executive board passed a resolution bitterly denouncing its own leadership.

Both local president Andrew J. Kaelin and international president Michael Quill were criticized for urging the membership to ratify the agreement calling for an eight cent an hour wage increase.

The executive board originally had rejected the contract offered by the Philadelphia Transportation Company by a 23 to 9 vote, but it was approved at a mass meeting of workers and in a subsequent secret ballot by a rank and file vote of more than five to one.

In its resolution — passed by a 16 to 15 vote — the executive board charged that Kaelin and Quill failed to obtain the working conditions for which the strike was called.

After six hours of debate in the office of the 11,600-member CJO local the board used its one vote-margin to pass the resolution which condemned Quill for his "arrogance and implying over the radio to the people of Philadelphia that those who disagreed with him were drunks, job seekers or thieves."

CAPITAL MARKS G.W.'S BIRTHDAY

Washington, Feb. 23 (AP) — The capital observed the 217th anniversary of George Washington's birth with parades and wreath-laying ceremonies at the first President's tomb.

Central event of the day was the ceremony sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Mount Vernon, where Washington lived and was buried. President Truman sent a wreath to be deposited at the tomb. The District of Columbia Masonic clubs laid a wreath at the Washington monument in another of the day's ceremonies.

Nearby Alexandria, Va., in the midst of a year-long bi-centennial program, planned the longest parade in the city's history.

Both Houses of Congress were called together at noon for the traditional reading of the first President's Farewell Address. The reading chanted to Senator Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me.) in the Senate and to Rep. Corbett (R-Pa.) in the House.

Eisenhart Named Warrior Captain

William "Bill" Eisenhart, star guard of the Gettysburg high school basketball team, was elected honorary captain for the current season by the squad this week.

Eisenhart, a senior, will lead the Warriors against Delone in the final game of the season Friday night at McSherrystown.

REORGANIZATION OF AGRICULTURE DEPT. IS URGED

Washington, Feb. 23 (AP)—The Hoover Commission said today reorganization of the Agriculture Department could save taxpayers at least $80,000,000 a year. Also, it said, the changes would save farmers a lot of confusion.

In a report to Congress, the Commission recommended a broad overhauling of the department—both in Washington and in the field—and transfer to it of some food and land activities now carried on by other governmental agencies.

From the farmer's standpoint, perhaps the most important recommendation is on which would unify the department's far-flung activities in each agricultural county to end what the commission called "duplications, overlappings and often conflicting policies."

Suggest Eight Units

The commission, a bipartisan group on government reorganization headed by former President Herbert Hoover, commended the department as a "vital and effective" agency in carrying out programs of value to farmers and consumers.

At the Washington level, the commission recommended that the department be reorganized so as to divide its activities among eight different units or services, as follows:

Research, extension, agricultural resources conservation, commodity adjustment, regulatory, agricultural credit, rural electrification and a secretary's staff service which would deal in such matters as finances, personnel, legal questions, information, supplies, research management and library.

Merging of Services

The commission recommended that local farmer committees, first set up under the AAA crop control program, be divorced from administrative functions. These committees now help carry out department programs covering price supports, school lunches, soil conservation, acreage allotment, forestry and purchases.

This administrative work, the commission said, should be done by department employees through offices based on the states as units. Insofar as is possible they would be housed jointly at the county level.

"The services at county levels and to farmer units should be so merged as to reduce the number of duplicating and unnecessary employees, with due regard to avoiding divided authority," he report said.

The commission urged, however, the establishment of county and state councils of farmers. These councils would be elected by farmers. They would serve in an advisory capacity only. Unlike present farmer committees, they would not draw salaries or per diem payments. They would be paid out-of-pocket costs in connection with their periodical meetings.

HUNTERS FACE HIGHER FEES

Harrisburg, Feb. 23 (AP) — Pennsylvania's some 800,000 hunters faced the prospects today of a one-dollar boost in license fees next year.

Sen. James S. Berger (R-Potter) disclosed that he is readying legislation which would hike the license charge from $2 to $3. This would in effect be a compromise to a present bill which asks for an increase to $3.65.

Both the State Game Commission and the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's clubs already have endorsed the $3.65 figure. The commission originally asked for a boost to $5 to meet current costs but later compromised with the federation on the $3.65 fee.

Legislation facilitating the $3.65 fee was subsequently introduced by Sen. Fred P. Ware, Jr. (R-Somerset). The measure also called for a non-resident fee increase from $15 to $25.

The Hare bill, however, apparently failed to meet the full approval of the senate committee on Forests and Waters. The Berger amendment to Hare's bill may serve as a compromise. Berger said his legislation also will specify that all license fee revenues are to be used entirely for game propagation and management purposes, excluding land purchases.

BULLETINS

Trojans Hand Warriors 48-25 Lacing Before Large Crowd

Chambersburg high school's cagers showed true championship form here Tuesday evening as they completely outclassed the Gettysburg high Warriors to register an easy 47-25 victory and complete their South Penn cage league schedule undefeated.

The six-time champions were given stiff opposition only in the first five minutes of play but thereafter the taller Trojans completely dominated play.

Walt Miner, lanky center for the visitors, accounted for 18 points to pace the invaders while the all-around work of Mike Waters at guard was particularly outstanding.

A near capacity crowd, largest of the season, attended the game, many being backers of the Franklin countians. The players from both teams were visibly affected by the high temperature in the gym.

Hold Lead Twice
Westerdahl opened the scoring with a foul in the opening seconds and a minute later Leisher put the Trojans in front with a goal. Eisenhart dribbled through for a one-hander after 3:15 and then fouls by Wolford and Leisher gave Chambersburg a 4-3 advantage after five minutes. From then on Chambersburg led by a comparatively safe margin. At the close of the first period the score stood 11-3.

Coach Forney's lads rallied mildly on goals by Donaldson and Westerdahl early in the second period to cut the lead to 13-7 but the champions began to click in true title-form to roll up a 25-12 advantage at half time.

Chambersburg hiked its margin to 34-17 midway in the third period and then Coach Forney yanked three of his regulars and used a patched up lineup from then on out. At the end of the third frame Chambersburg led 39-20 and reserves from both squads finished out the last period.

The Warrior scrubs put up a fine exhibition against the Trojans reserves during the first half but found the height of Walker and Davis too much to cope with in the last half and bowed 45-28. At half time the score was deadlocked at 15-15.

Charles Ford, Warrior forward, was sorely missed in the game. He suffered a fractured right ankle in the game at Hanover Friday night. He was examined by a Hanover physician at the game and upon further examination here Saturday was sent to the Warner hospital where his ankle was placed in a cast.

CANNERS GAIN 52-35 TRIUMPH

Gene Haas' Biglerville high dribblers crushed Washington Township Tuesday evening 52-35 on the latter's court Tuesday evening. The game was originally listed for Friday evening.

The Cannners jumped off into a 12-6 lead in the first period and led by a wide margin throughout. Lantz netted 16 points for the winners.

In the preliminary game the Biglerville reserves dropped a 31-30 decision after a hotly contested game. This evening Biglerville will close its season by meeting Newville in a double-header at Biglerville, the preliminary game starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Richard Allison, forward, and Bob Weikert, center, seniors, will be in action for the final time tonight for the Cannners.

Bison Cagers Here To Meet Bullets

Tonight the Gettysburg college cagers make their next to last home appearance of the season when they entertain the Bucknell university dribblers on the local court. Muhlenberg comes here March 9 for the final home contest.

A win tonight will enhance the Bullets' chances for a Middle Atlantic tourney bid and the Bream-men will go all out to repeat their earlier season triumph over the Bisons.

At 7 o'clock the freshmen teams will clash in what promises to be a close affair. Gettysburg won 45-44 at Lewisburg.

The undefeated Conewago VFW basketball team completed its county league season without defeat by defeating the Gettysburg cagers 67-49 at Arendtsville Tuesday evening.

After Gettysburg rallied in the third period to cut the Conewago margin to 39-37, Conewago spurred Pentz in the final quarter to win handily.

The championship playoffs will start next Wednesday. The two preliminary games will be played at Arendtsville with Conewago meeting Fairfield and Gettysburg clashing with East Berlin. On March 9 the championship game, and a consolation game, will be played at Fairfield.

NEW OXFORD HI WINS WITH EASE

Marty Flegal's New Oxford high basketball team closed its 24-game schedule Tuesday evening by swamping Quincy 64-30 on the New Oxford court.

The victory marked the 19th against but five reverses for the winners, one of the most successful campaigns in history for the county team.

J. Miller, New Oxford center, poured 30 points through the meshes for Coach Flegal's aggregation. At half time the winners led 24-13.

New York, Feb. 23 (AP)—Jim Braddock, whom some old-timers will recall as the heavyweight champ before Joe Louis took over a dozen years ago, doesn't hesitate to tab Joe as the greatest of them all. "I didn't stand a chance against him," Jim admits. "And he has defended his title more times than all the champions put together since John L. Sullivan."

Ted Atkinson, Coalton's jockey, has no doubts about his steed's ability to go a mile and a quarter in Saturday's Widener Handicap. "I think he can run from here to the Rocky mountains," he says firmly. Michigan State feels pretty certain it has the country's next mile champion in little Jack Dianetti, a junior from East Rochester, N. Y. Dianetti did a 4:12 mile last year, but failed to make the Olympic team because of illness. They say he'll show the fans a killing stretch sprint in the IC4A games here Saturday.

Today's Talk

ADAPTATION
How difficult it is for so many to adapt themselves to their station. Either they fit or they don't. And if they don't, then it is the part of wisdom to move on, make a change—perhaps to make a change in themselves.

Adaptation is a valuable art. To make the best of a bad situation, or to so surcharge it that its complexion becomes completely a new one. Nothing enlivens a personality, giving to it unusual attractiveness, more than does this ability of one to adapt himself to any situation.

Any of us may so conduct ourselves that we may be welcomed everywhere we go, and radiate that quality that makes people feel at home with us. All through life we are placed in positions where we must adapt ourselves to our work, to our friends, or to an emergency that may call for unusual courage or patience.

No matter in what station in life we find ourselves, we must adapt ourselves to it, and make the most of it. If we decide upon a change, we must then adapt ourselves to that change. We get nowhere by wobbling.

We must adapt ourselves to our surroundings, to the ways of those with whom we most associate, and to what work is assigned to us, or which we choose for ourselves. We can never be happy or find satisfaction by living each day on a hit-and-miss basis.

We must even adapt ourselves to the climate and to the changes of the weather—or go to some place where we can—if possible. Adaptation to things as they are, however, is safest and best under all conditions. There ought to be quite a deal of the heroic in all of us, if we would be noticed and appreciated.

When we readily adapt ourselves to any condition or circumstance, we put up ourselves as candidates for peace and contentment of mind. And we are usually elected! You have heard the familiar saying, "When in Rome do as the Romans do." That compliments both you and them.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Shuffle of Fate."

I thing when a friend of mine's tempted away

To a task that is greater and offers more pay,

Will happy he be in the new life

he leads?

Is it only the money that's offered

he needs?

On the morning when first at his desk he appears,

Will he miss the old friends he has known down the road?

Will those he has worked with, from lowest to top,

With smiles say "Hello!" as he enters the shop?

It may be I'm foolish, my notion all wrong,

But what of his neighbors? Will they go along?

Wherever he goes new delights he may find

But what about those he is leaving behind?

Should anyone tempt me with money

to go

From the city I love, I should an-

You offer more money, but that's where it ends.

The pay I'm now getting includes all my friends."

Littlestown GRADE PUPILS GIVE PROGRAMS AT ASSEMBLY

The first, second and third grades of the Littlestown Public Schools assembled in the first grade room on Tuesday afternoon, when they presented a joint program appropriate to St. Valentine's Day and the birthdays of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington.

The program presented by the first grade children of which Mrs. Naomi Schwartz, is the teacher, follows: Songs, "Valentines," "Who will be my Valentine?" and "Lincoln and Washington" by the group; recitation, "A Little Girl's Wish," Dorothy Krumrine; dialogue, "A Little Boy's Wish," Eddie Leister, Vernon Study and Bruce Stair; dialogue, "Valentine Wishes," Carole Baumgardner, Marietta Weikert, Jean Sentz and Judith Myers; and choral recitations, "Washington and Choosing" by all the pupils in the grade.

Judy Long was the announcer for the second grade program planned by Mrs. Carroll E. Arter, teacher. The program follows: songs, "Lincoln" and "Valentine's Day," by all the pupils; choral readings, "All Things Bright and Beautiful," by Cecil F. Alexander, "Our Flag," author unknown, and "Young America," by Anna M. Priestly. These readings were presented by all of the second grade pupils. The program continues, recitation, "A Verse for My Valentine," Ruth Myers; recitation, "Why I Like You, February," Richard Ritter; recitation, "Our Flag," John Reynolds; exercise, "Lincoln's Birthday" by 17 pupils and songs, "Flag Song" and "George Washington" by the grade.

Pupils Take Part
The program by the third grade of which Mrs. Esther R. Wolfe is the teacher follows: announcer, Gloria Burgoon; recitation, "A Morning Prayer for the World's Children," Sandra Shadle; song, "A Valentine for Mother" by the entire grade; recitation, "The Woodpecker," Jean Krout; readings, "Washington," Carolyn Brown, Robt. Blevins and Sheila Worley; recitation, "The Snow-storm," Douglas Leatherman; reading, "The Star Spangled Heart," Barbara Crouse; reading, "Betsy Ross and Our Flag," Paul Snyder.

The third grade program also included exercise, "Red, White and Blue," John Groft, Wayne Crouse and William Renner; playlet, "What I Can Be," Shirley Hoff, Kenneth Jacobs, Donna Weaver and Wayne Miller; recitation, "A Wish for February," Larry Reinhold and song, "America" by the grade.

The fourth grade of which Mrs. Myrtle R. Manthey is the teacher, presented a program in their room on Tuesday morning, when the pupils of the fifth grade, Harvey W. Schwartz, teacher, were guests. Their program follows: song, "America," by the group; recitations, "Baked Valentines," Suzanne Blocher and "Valentines," Margaret Knight; exercise, "Abraham Lincoln," Loretta Study, Mary Anne Burgoon and Geraldine Roberts; recitation, "Lincoln," Allen King; reading, "My Hero," Albert Snyder, recitation, "Two Presidents," Gary Strevig; exercise, "Washington," Roberta Rose, Jane Barton and Hazel Krout; recitations, "George Washington," Richard Horner and "Like Washington," Gary Keefer; and son, "The Star Spangled Banner," by the group.

Mrs. Lloyd E. Crouse and Mrs. Melvin Miller were in charge of the program for the February meeting of the Hustlers' class of Redeemer's Reformed church, Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Ralph Staley.

Maple avenue. It was a patriotic program. Scripture was read by Mrs. Melvin Miller and Mrs. Theron Spangler offered prayer after which the group sang, "America." A quartet composed of Mrs. Melvin Miller, Miss Helen Wisotzky, Mrs. Ralph Reaver and Mrs. Robert Miller sang, "Faith of our Fathers." Mrs. Richard Hartlaub read a poem, "Builders." The reading, "Life of George Washington" was presented by Mrs. Lloyd E. Crouse. Mrs. Hamilton C. Walker read a poem and Mrs. Curvin Hollinger presented a reading entitled, "A Story." The program closed with a song and the Lord's prayer in unison. Miss Helen Wisotzky, president, conducted a business meeting when it was decided to have a food sale in the Alpha fire hall, March 11, beginning at 4 p. m. The class will also have a sandwich sale on March 17. Mrs. Frank E. Reynolds and Mrs. Richard Hartlaub were appointed the program com-

BOY, 10, TOSSES GIRL INTO RIVER

Harrisburg, Feb. 23 (AP)—A five-year-old girl, said by police to have been tossed into the Susquehanna River by an older boy, was under treatment today in Harrisburg hospital for shock and head injuries.

Oscar L. Blough, chief of police, said a witness reported that a 10-year-old boy threw stones and rocks last night at the girl, Sharol Zimmerman, 5, as she struggled to reach the river bank.

Blough said a boy, questioned in the case, was released in custody of his parents for juvenile authorities. Blough said the boy questioned denied any connection with the case.

Blough said W. L. Klingler, of nearby Fort Hunter, reported he heard feeble cries and saw a boy throwing bricks and stones at an object in the river.

"I thought maybe the boy was throwing stones at a dog or cat so I started toward him to make him stop," Klingler said.

He said the boy ran and then the girl dragged herself onto the river bank and collapsed.

Blough said the girl and boy met as the girl was going to a store near her home, that he hit her on the head with a brick and then threw her into the river.

two mirrors from cars parked in the vicinity of Biglerville.

On February 10 Currans, Abel and Deardorff stole eight "Wind King" cigarette lighters from an automobile parked near the Victor Products plant here, authorities said. They are also charged with stealing gasoline from the truck of Floyd King, Orrtanna.

On or near Feb. 10 they are also alleged to have taken three radiators from old automobiles in Orrtanna.

Continue Probe
On January 25 they are alleged to have taken a battery from the car of Dale McClellan, Gettysburg R. 4, in front of Seibert's garage, Hunt-erstown, and to have taken two cases of empty soft drink bottles which they later allegedly sold back to the store where they were taken in Gettysburg.

The probe of the thefts was being continued today by Walsh, Sheriff Schultz and Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster. The youths are also believed to have stolen several articles from automobiles parked at the Gettysburg high school during a basketball game on February 15.

Walsh said that the thieves did not drink the milk after stealing the bottles, but threw them into the fields.

Highlights On Making Income Tax Returns

No. 3—Using Form 1040A

(Editor's note: This is the third of 12 stories on who must do what about his 1948 income tax return, for the deadline is March 15.)

BY JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Feb. 23 (AP)—This tells you who can use form 1040-A, and how, in filing your 1948 income tax return.

Your income was $5,000 or more? You can't use it. You must use the 1040 long form. Only those with under $5,000 income can use form 1040A. And not all of them can. Those who can't, can use the 1040 short-form.

Form 1040A is meant mostly for workers who had full tax withheld from them during 1948. The 1040 short-form is meant mostly for other under-$5,000 income people like landlords and so on.

Say your income was under $5,000. You can use form 1040A if—

1. That income was entirely from wages or salary from which full tax was withheld, or—

2. Any other income—provided it was no more than $100—came from wages, dividends or interest.

1040A Easiest To Use
Example: Your income was $4,000, almost all of it in wages from which tax was withheld. But a little of it came from rent. You couldn't use form 1040A. You'd use the 1040 short-form.

Form 1040A is easiest to use. No figuring. Answer questions. Send it to the Internal Revenue collector. He'll figure your tax for you.

You're due a refund? He'll send you a check. You still owe tax? He'll tell you. You have 30 days to pay after he notifies you.

If you use form 1040A, attach ALL the form W-2 withholding statements given you in 1948 by your boss or bosses.

Change This Year
Form W-2 is the small, check-size receipt given a worker by an employer for taxes withheld from his pay during the year. Last year form W-2, itself, was used as an income tax return. Not this year. Form 1040A takes its place.

Congress made other changes in the law to cut taxes, particularly for married couples. How?

Now for the first time everywhere, by filing a joint return, they can split their income, and figure the tax on that basis.

In most cases this gives them a lower tax. Married couples who can do so won't lose money by filing jointly on form 1040A. Why?

Will Figure It Both Ways

The collector, in deciding their tax, will figure which would give them a lower tax; a separate or joint return.

Then he'll give them the benefit of whichever way is cheaper for them. But—

Not every couple can use form 1040A. It depends on their income. They can use it as a joint return if their combined income was under $5,000 and if they came within the rules of No. 1 and No. 2 outlined above.

Suppose, individually, their income was under $5,000 but, combined, was over $5,000. Example: Jones had $4,000; his wife had $4,000. They can't file jointly on form 1040A. They can file separately on it, so long as they come under rules No. 1 and No. 2, or—

They can file jointly on the 1040 long-form, where they must figure their own tax but can split their income to get a lower tax. (In community property states, if husband and wife wish to file separate returns, they can't use form 1040A at all. They must use form 1040.)

Both Must Sign
(Community property states: Arizona, California, Idaho, Louisiana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Oregon, Texas, Washington.)

Remember: In using form 1040 you

DEVELOPMENT OF

which George P. Smith is the chairman.

Chamber Reorganizes

A re-organization meeting of the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce was held Tuesday evening in the Alpha Fire hall. The following officers were elected for the year: President, John Bloom; first vice president, Roy Renner; second vice president, Karl Bankert; secretary, Paul Bigelow; treasurer, Chester S. Byers; and directors, John Bloom, Roy Renner, Karl Bankert, Paul Bigelow, Samuel Renner, W. H. Dern and Paul Bowman. Mr. Bloom succeeds Charles W. Weikert as automatically get, without asking or itemizing, a deduction of about 20 per cent for expenses like hospital bills or charity. Most people's deductions don't amount to 10 per cent.

If yours are more, you'll lose money filing on form 1040A. Use the 1040 long-form. There you'll have to itemize your deductions but claim the full amount.

If husband or wife wants to itemize deductions, neither can use form 1040A. Both must then use form 1040. And both must itemize.

In using form 1040A, be sure you list your exemptions and dependents. For each you get $600 knocked off your income before it's taxable.

Husbands and wives must both sign form 1040A when they use it as a joint return.

Auxiliary Meeting
The Ladies' Auxiliary of Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, will be hostess to the spring meeting of the Four-County council of the Legion Auxiliary in the lecture room of Redeemer's Reformed church, Thursday, March 3. The council comprises Adams, York, Franklin and Fulton counties.

There will be a meeting of the executive board at 10:30 a. m., with the regular meeting beginning at 11 a. m. Luncheon will be served in the social hall of the church by the Ladies' Aid society of Redeemer's church.

State officers, who will be present and speak, are Mrs. Mary Krumrine, State College, department president; Mrs. Howard McKay, Media, department membership chairman and Mrs. Dorothy Sload, Duncannon, district director. Mrs. Howard Metz, Chambersburg, council president, will preside over the sessions.

The month of March is set aside for Pan-American study. Reservations for the local members must be made by Saturday, February 26. All reservations should be sent or given to Mrs. J. Ray Reindollar. A large representation is desired from the local auxiliary.

The February meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of St. John's Lutheran church will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Spangler along the Gettysburg pike. Hostesses include Mrs. Spangler, Mrs. James Duttera and Mrs. Lillie Shryock.

The semi-monthly meeting of the Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the post home, East King street.

Times Presents First Installment Of Historical Review Of Upper Adams Schools

The Story Of A School

By Elliott Taylor

Vice President of the Upper Adams School District

This is the first in a series of three articles on the growth of education in the boroughs and townships that now comprise the Upper Adams School District. Jointure, showing the need and subsequent vindication of the consolidation; a glimpse of the schools in operation today and a prophetic preview of the future with its problems and its opportunities.

HISTORICALLY, the Upper Adams School District is almost without any history. It shows immense promise of a great future; and its present is regarded as highly satisfactory by those who are most familiar with the details of its daily operation. But still in its own name it has no historical past, unless the 20 months that have elapsed since it was formally organized in June 1947, can be called a past.

Even though the joint school district is lacking in a history of its own, it is still rich in tradition and background. The growth of education in the boroughs and townships that are now joined together in this new educational venture forms a story that is long, colorful and frequently controversial almost to the point of violence.

The earliest attempts at any sort of schooling, other than home instruction, in the community that is now upper Adams county is largely lost among the unrecorded stories of pre-Revolutionary times. Certainly, we are safe in assuming that before any records were kept, and long before the progressive horse and buggy days were ever dreamed of, parents must have aspired to have their children get a little more learning than they themselves had had. Their ambitions must have taken the form of hiring someone just a little better equipped than they were to impart the desired knowledge to the boys and girls of those rugged days.

School In 1947

We know that there was a school in what we now call Adams county over half a century before the county came into existence. It was the old Christ Church school in the present Union township, set up by a German Reformed minister in 1747. Since the school lasted for nearly one hundred years, it must have been flourishing well by January 22, 1800, when Adams county was established by separation from the western part of York county.

In our own upper Adams community it appears that one of the earliest schools was an old log structure, built in Arendtsville about 1781. The Lutheran and Reformed churches undertook this joint venture, building a church on the southeast corner of the square, where the National Bank of Arendtsville now stands, and erecting the school house across the road on the southwest corner; the present site of the Reformed church.

Of course, in 1781, there was no Arendtsville since the town was not founded until 1803, and its incorporation as a borough did not occur until 1896.

Log School In Middletown

Butler township and Biglerville must share with Menallen township the distinction of having another one of the very early schools of upper Adams. It is recorded that a log school existed in Middletown, as Biglerville was then known, prior to 1800, and was probably built about 1797. Butler is a comparative newcomer among our present townships, not having been organized until 1849, out of parts of both Menallen and Franklin. Menallen and Tyrone townships date back another hundred years to 1749.

Just when the earliest school in what is now Menallen township was constructed does not appear on record, but it stood between Bendersville and Biglerville, near the present Penn-Ceramics plant location and was probably the forerunner of the old Fairmount school above Flora Dale. While the year in which the building was erected is not known, at least it was old enough to be torn down in 1836; and if it was as hardy as its contemporaries it must have given all of a half century's service by that time.

No doubt other schools sprang up before 1800 and in the early years of the nineteenth century. Tyrone township, for instance, while lacking authentic records of earliest building, had a school in Heidlersburg that was referred to as the "Old School" in 1840, when the United Brethren organized a society and began worship there. During this period, although at a date that cannot be exactly determined, a school was also opened in Wilsonville, which is now known as Bendersville, then part of Menallen township.

Free For Paupers

Most, if not all, of the schools of the early nineteenth century were either church schools or subscription schools, supported by the contributions of private citizens.

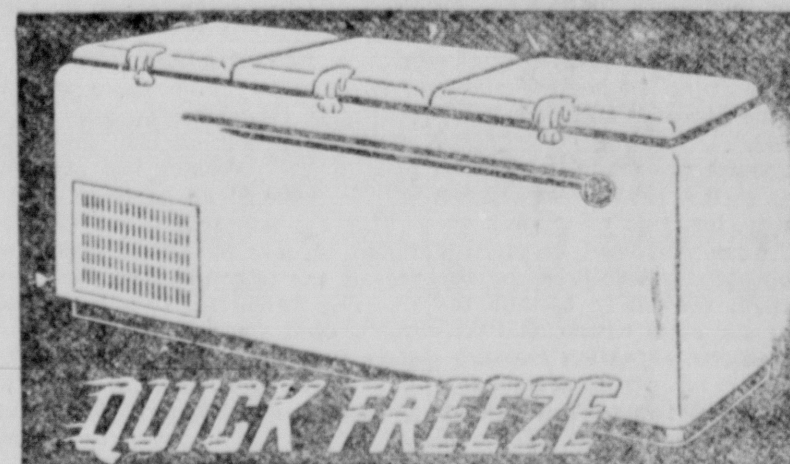

In 1809, the Pennsylvania General Assembly showed its first interest in the matter of educating its future citizens. That year a bill was passed directing each county to provide free education for pauper children between the ages of five and twelve, at county expense. It is noteworthy that the state made no provisions to pay any of the cost of this laudable project, however.

The first statewide controversy over the schools occurred in 1834, when the free school act was passed. This law created a separate school district out of every city, borough, and township, and provided for the election of local school boards to govern them. It established, for the first time, the right of local authorities to levy taxes for school purposes, but it still provided no state aid. Under the law, the various districts in the state could vote to have schools, or not to have schools, a form of educational local option that remained in force until 1848. The idea of free education for all (Please Turn to Page 2)

Interesting News Of Upper Adams Countians And Their Enterprises

The Story Of A School

By Elliott Taylor

was not accepted with any great enthusiasm in Adams county. At a joint convention of county commissioners and school directors held in Gettysburg in 1834, only nine of the seventeen townships in the county voted to accept the free school system. Menallen was one of those voting favorably, but the plan met with vigorous opposition in Tyrone. An indignation meeting of citizens held in November 1834, passed resolutions denouncing the law as "aiming to rob the farmers" and demanding its repeal.

An attempt was made to abandon the law at the next session of the legislature, but this effort was defeated. After prolonged debate, the assembly voted to retain the legislation which eventually became the basis of our state educational philosophy of free education for all.

There was no getting around free schooling, and the townships soon began to realize the fact. Some of them accepted the Law in 1835, others in 1836, the year in which Tyrone elected to fall into line, but it took ten years after passage of the first bill for every township in Adams county to accept its provisions. In 1836, the second convention of county commissioners voted for a two mill school tax to be levied in each of the accepting districts.

Little Red School House

As the public schools, supported by local taxes, increased, the older parochial and subscription schools rapidly passed out of existence. It was during this period that the Little Red School House era really began to flourish. Probably more school houses were erected between 1840, and the Civil War than at any comparable period in the history of Pennsylvania.

The problem in education then wasn't so much what would be taught in school. It was getting the children to school during the winter months so they could be taught anything at all. For six and seven year old youngsters, the buildings had to be within walking, or wading, distance of the farms or the children simply couldn't and didn't attend. Even though walking distance in those days meant anything up to four or five miles, it took a lot of school buildings to cover upper Adams county.

The office of County Superintendent of Schools was created in 1854, another piece of state legislation that aroused bitter antagonism in the rural communities. Those who had not ever become reconciled to the free school system in the first place regarded this as climaxing evidence that the state was going to supervise and eventually dictate all local policies on education. They weren't far from right in their opinion, as present trends amply affirm.

Some State Support

With the establishing of the county office of education, some records began to be kept, and these enable us to get a more comprehensive picture of the schools as they developed from that time on.

These records show that in 1865, there were twenty-five schools in the townships of Butler, Menallen and Tyrone. The boroughs of Arendtsville, Bendersville and Biglerville had not yet come into existence as separate school districts but there was a school within the boundaries of each of these towns.

Arendtsville students, who had trudged for ten years to the old Paradise school southwest of town, in Franklin county, were now enjoying the convenience of a new building, constructed in 1861, on Gettysburg street. This same structure until 1948 housed a field office of the Pennsylvania State college research laboratory.

By 1865 Bendersville had a school located near the center of town. Biglerville students had grown too numerous, or perhaps too soft, for the old log and mud structure and were reveling in the luxury of a brick and frame schoolroom built in 1869, on the site where the present high school now stands.

The number of one-room schools continued to grow, even after 1865, although at nothing like the rapid pace of the preceding two decades.

Take Stand In 1873

The Pennsylvania State Constitution of 1873 recognized once and for all the principle that the state was responsible for education, and that a good school system would require state support in dollars as well as in advice and mandates from the General Assembly. It provided that at least one million dollars each year should be appropriated for education, and it forbade any of this money going to sectarian or denominational schools.

High School Act In 1887

It is interesting to note in passing how both the state and the nation have repudiated the debt that education owes to the churches. The United States Supreme Court now holds that it is illegal to impart religious instruction to public school pupils in school buildings during school hours, even though the community and the pupils themselves expressly desire such instruction.

The state's chief concern over education centered in the elementary schools up until the passage of a high school act, in 1887. This law permitted the establishment of high schools in cities and boroughs which had been divided into wards, but made no mention of rural areas. The latter were recognized in 1895, however, when the law was expanded to permit the establishing of high schools in every district of the state. This year is also memorable as the first in which compulsory attendance was introduced.

Action In Arendtsville

On an old statement of "Condition and working of the common school system in Adams County," for the year ending June 1, 1885, Arendtsville appears as the first of the upper Adams boroughs to report as an independent school district. Behind this emergence of Arendtsville as a district lies another story of lusty and outspoken controversy that marked the development of our present school system.

The school built in 1861, on Gettysburg street, had begun to be seriously overcrowded by 1881. The citizens of the town requested

Franklin township to provide more room, but the appeal was rejected by the township school board. Instead, the town was divided into two sections; part of the students were ordered to return to the old Paradise school, and the balance were to continue attending on Gettysburg street.

Proposals were circulated to petition the courts for the establishment of a separate school district, and on this question two extremes of public opinion met in violent opposition. The conflicting views soon boiled down to a simple question of whether to keep taxes low or provide better education; and the advocates of better schools, through an independent district were victorious.

Arendtsville then proceeded to build a two-story brick school of its own, commodious and modern for those days, and by the fall of 1884, it was ready for use. (This same building, sixty-five years later, is now sheltering two of the elementary grades of the Upper Adams School District's Arendtsville unit.) In its first year of operation, Arendtsville employed two teachers to instruct ninety-seven pupils. The boys and girls established an average of 91% attendance for the five school months and it cost the taxpayers seventy-two cents per pupil per month to operate.

Schools in the three townships of Butler, Menallen and Tyrone, plus the district of Arendtsville brought the 1884 total in the combined Upper Adams community to 31. Menallen was the largest with fourteen, Butler and Tyrone had eight each.

COUNTY YOUTH ON GUARD DUTY FOR M'ARTHUR

William C. Shull, near Gettysburg, has been assigned to General MacArthur's Headquarters in the Far East Command, in Tokyo.

A graduate of Gettysburg high school, class of 1948, Shull entered the Army in August at Philadelphia. He was sent to Camp Breckenridge, Kentucky for Infantry basic training, and embarked from Port Lawton, Washington, for his tour of duty in Japan.

Assigned to the Honor Guard Company of Headquarters and Service Group, General Headquarters, Shull performs the duties of a Specialized Guard. He stands post in the famed Dai Ichi building, Headquarters for General MacArthur.

The Honor Guard, one of the most select groups of men in the United States Army, is carefully screened for mental alertness and physical excellence. Their prime mission is to guard the Supreme Allied Commander, his family, and staff. They stand guard at the Dai Ichi Building, and at the American Embassy, the official residence.

Shull is fond of football and hunting, considers them his favorite outdoor sports. He spends his "rainy Tuesdays" in the Service Club in the finance building, where he may enjoy another of his past-times . . . music. He likes to read and finds that the finance building, where he is billeted, houses not only a service club, pool room, and gym, but also one of the most completely equipped and modern libraries in the Far East Command.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam V. Shull.

Spraying Pays—Checking of 2-500,116 apples during the past 20 years by extension plant pathologists of the Pennsylvania State college has proved definitely that it pays to spray. In completely sprayed orchards all but 2 1/2 per cent of the apples were free from disease, while unsprayed orchards yielded 75 per cent scabby apples.

THROTTLING OF CHURCH BEHIND CURTAIN GROWS

By LYNN HEINZERLING

Geneva, Switzerland, Feb. 23 (AP)—The throttling of church influence in the Iron Curtain countries is moving with the precision of a time-table.

Acts AT ONCE to relieve NIGHT CROUPY COUGHING

(CAUSED BY COLDS)

For years thousands of Doctors prescribed PERTUSSIN. It acts at once not only to relieve coughing due to colds but also 'loosens up' phlegm and makes it easier to raise. PERTUSSIN is safe for both old and young. Please—PERTUSSIN—

Western church officials here said today.

Some churchmen who have maintained contacts in Eastern Europe say the whole pattern is so rigid, carefully planned and executed it appears to have been dictated by a central authority, possibly the Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau).

The say the whole structure of church and religious life in Eastern Europe is being altered by Communist pressure.

Hundreds in Prison

The life sentencing of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary and the forthcoming trial of 15 Protestant leaders of Bulgaria are only the headline developments in this burrowing into the foundations of established religious life, according to these informants.

Churchmen in this international vantage point say hundreds of church officials and pastors are either in prison or living in enforced retirement. Christian schools are being forced under state sponsorship. Non-Marxist youth movements are being dissolved, relationships with foreign churches or religious organizations broken abruptly.

All this is being done under the guise of action against "espionage" and "reactionary" centers.

Slowed In Yugoslavia

The process is most advanced in Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria. But it is not far behind in Poland and Czechoslovakia. A start was made in Yugoslavia, but the campaign appears to have been blunted. Whether this was due to Marshal Tito's rupture with the Cominform or to the unbending attitude of the Serbian Orthodox church is uncertain. The Communists also have made little progress against the Lutheran church in Finland.

Churchmen here who have had direct contact and correspondence with Eastern Europe's religious leaders say the campaign follows these rigid rules:

1. Churches are not persecuted openly as in the early days of the Russian revolution.
2. Influence of the church on public life must be eliminated; the church must be brought under government control.

To Be Tool of State

3. Any vital, personal religious opposition must be eliminated by getting rid of the responsible church leaders on civil or moral charges.
4. The backbone of the church must be broken either by separating it from the state and state funds, by

MILD WINTER IS BOON TO FARMER

Favorable weather during early weeks of 1949 has enabled Pennsylvania farmers to make unusual progress with their outdoor work, the state Department of Agriculture said following a general farm survey the first of February.

January was the third straight month with unusually mild winter weather. Temperatures averaged seven degrees above normal. Soils remained unfrozen most of the month, permitting rains to seep in and increase water reserves.

Snow cover was absent except for a few days but mild temperatures minimized injury to winter grains, meadows and pastures. Temperatures climbed into the sixties at least once each week.

Fields of winter wheat, rye and barley are unusually green. Pastures and meadows also show more color than normal at this time of year. An unusual amount of January plowing was accomplished.

Winter work generally is well advanced on Pennsylvania farms. Repair of buildings and equipment is continuing in many localities. Supplies of wood for fuel were replenished and much progress made in cutting trees for timber.

Orchardists of Pennsylvania are busy trimming trees and getting equipment in shape for the coming season.

offering a church subsidy and thus freeing the people of responsibility for supporting the church, or by seizure of church properties through "land reform" thus depriving the church of revenues.

5. A suitable church or group of churches must be made the tool of the government.

6. All contacts with the West must be cut. Roman Catholics are regarded as particularly dangerous because of Rome's international influence, and Protestants also to the extent that they maintain contacts with Western churches.

Ventilate Properly—Early-hatched winter chicks do best when their quarters are properly ventilated, says F. H. Leuschner, Penn State extension poultry specialist. Careful regulation of air movement is necessary as the weather changes.

Mummasburg Sportsmen Enjoy Fox Hunt Although Dogs Run Animal Down Three Miles From Starting Mark

Englishmen can have their fox hunts complete with red velvet coats, horses, masters of the hunt, silver trumpets, and foxes, Adams countians prefer a fox chase which may not have all the spangles of a fox hunt, but has even more excitement and "fun."

The sport seems to be gathering momentum throughout the county, with fox chases being advertised from all sections. Last Saturday, for example, at least two chases were held, one at Mummasburg and the other near York Springs.

Allen E. Hartman, whose store at Mummasburg is more or less the meeting place for the semi-official organization that could be called "The Mummasburg Hunt club" but which actually has no name, no rules, no regulations and no officials, explains that the hunts take place from Mummasburg whenever a fox is available.

Cost $8 - $10 Each

Foxes cost from $8 to $10 apiece "or whatever you can get them for," and are usually good for one hunt only. If the dogs get there first there is no living fox available when the hunters arrive.

Saturday at Mummasburg about 50 took part in the hunt. Some traveled on foot, straining to keep up with the fox hounds; some traveled by car, hoping that constant scanning of the fields and constant listening for the baying of the hounds would lead them to the right spot when the hunt ends.

Dues in the Mummasburg organization are $1 and go toward buying foxes, which are secured wherever they can be found. Saturday's fox was secured from Rodney Taylor, Wrensville, who went hunting with his dogs about a week ago and captured a fox alive.

16 Dogs In Hunt

The group went to a field north of Mummasburg, and Roy Kuykendall turned the fox loose. Sixteen fox hounds, brought to the hunt by their masters, were held in leash for sixteen minutes after the fox had disappeared toward the northwest. The dogs were then let loose and those who traveled on foot made off after the hounds. The other hunters piled into cars parked near the field and began their chase, hoping that the run would stay close to the road.

The dogs ran the fox to earth about three miles north of Mummasburg, on the Bower farm, formerly the Dan Jacobs farm. The chase led across Fox Hill and through orchards and fields enroute. Some of those running after the hounds arrived finally at the place, out of breath. Some quit enroute, when the going got too rough, and finished the trip by car. Some of those in cars had trips all over the country side between Mummasburg and Arendtsville as they tried various Use Hardwood Ashes — Hardwood ashes gathered from the fireplace, sifted and kept in a dry place, make good fertilizer for use in the spring flower garden, according to A. O. Rasmussen, extension ornamental horticulturist of the Pennsylvania State college. He also suggests starting flowering plants indoors for later transplanting.

Grow Adapted Seed — Home-grown red clover seed is best adapted to local conditions. Since the supply of home-grown seed seldom equals the demand, there is an opportunity for more farmers to engage in the enterprise.

Water Planted Seeds — Do not soak most vegetable seeds before planting, warns J. O. Dutt, extension vegetable specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. Sow the seeds in a fairly dry soil, cover and water thoroughly. Watering through a clean gunny sack prevents washing the soil from the seeds.

Plans Available — Fifteen new reference in your county agricultural extension office.

The ski is believed to have originated in Norway.

NORWAY COULD USE "DUMPED" GERMAN ARMS

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Oslø, Norway, Feb. 23 (AP)—Norwegian generals rue the day when the Allies dumped the captured equipment of an entire German army into the sea off Norway.

The guns and ammunition which sank beneath the waves in 1945 would have armed 350,000 Norwegians for home defense in 1949.

The Allied explanation was that retaining German weapons for liberated Norway might later stimulate a revival of the German armament industry.

Norway has not been impressed by that explanation. Since the war, she has had to spend an excessive share of her income on military purposes. It has crippled her economic recovery, while failing to guarantee her security.

"Most Exposed"

Norway is now the most exposed country on the western threshold of Russia. She has an annual military budget $68,000,000—equivalent to $22 per person for every man, woman and child of her 3,150,000 population.

"If we had been as fortunate as the Swedes to survive two world wars without a scratch, we would gamble on neutrality again, as they do," a government official said. "Or if we were wide-opened, geographically, to attack, as all of Denmark is, we might consider defense a matter of wishful thinking."

"But we fought through five years of German occupation, inside and outside our country. We proved to ourselves that freedom never costs too much, no matter what it costs in blood and treasure."

"All our ties are with the west. We never expect the west to start another war. If the east starts a war, we're sure we couldn't stay out of it, even if we tried. But we hope that if the west is united, no war can come."

Russia has a colossal military machine just across the frontier from Norway. In comparison, Norway's preparedness measures are of microscopic size.

Norway keeps a brigade of 4,000 troops in the British occupation zone of Germany. That's 25 per cent of her army. There are about 100,000 home guardsmen.

Her navy has a few destroyers

IF STOMACH BALKS DUE TO GAS AND BLOAT

Help Get Food Digested to Relieve Yourself of This Nervous Distress

Do you feel all puffed-up and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in helping your stomach do the job—it should be doing—in the digestion of its food.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—→ with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

State Senator Hits Newsman, Apologizes

Harrisburg, Feb. 23 (AP)—A Democratic Senator hit a Philadelphia newspaperman Tuesday during an exchange over a labor bill. The Senator publicly apologized on the Senate floor a few minutes afterwards.

The incident occurred in the Senate chamber between Senator Elmer J. Holland (D-Allegheny) and Joseph L. Miller, political writer of the Philadelphia Inquirer, a short time before the session convened.

"I regret," Holland told his fellow senators, "in the heat of discussion with Mr. Miller an incident occurred which I deeply regret. I take this occasion to apologize and hope Mr. Miller will accept my apology."

Miller declined comment on Holland's apology. He said immediately after the incident that Holland "hit me when my back was turned." Miller said he and the senator had been discussing a "labor story that did not even involve him."

NOT A DEMOTION

Harrisburg, Feb. 23 (AP)—The transfer of Miss Lotta I. Davies to a new teaching post in the Lansford schools was not a demotion, Dr. Francis B. Haas, Superintendent of Public Instruction, has held. The stand upheld the Lansford borough school district in its assignment of Miss Davies last September to teaching classes in arithmetic, spelling and American history in the seventh and eighth grades. She previously taught social studies and English to ninth grade pupils.

YOUTH CERTAIN OF LIMP CURE

Altoona, Pa., Feb. 23 (AP)—Eighteen-year-old Melvin Acker, Jr., is certain he will walk without a limp once more thanks to operations that removed six inches from his right leg.

Melvin contracted rheumatic fever when he was four. He recovered gradually but his left leg didn't develop normally. By the time he was 17, his right leg was six inches longer than the left.

Doctors removed first three inches of bone from his right leg above the thigh and then three more below the knee.

Now Melvin stands five feet, four inches, instead of five feet ten.

"But, gee, it's worth it," he said Monday night. "Just think, I'll be able to walk like an ordinary fellow again."

The doctors believe the operations were successful, but Melvin—now wearing a cast on his left leg and hobbling about on crutches—must return to the hospital in a couple of weeks.

"They're going to take off my cast," he explained, "and see how I'm doing. But I know how I'm going to do. I'm going to walk—and without a limp."

Ask Revamped Laws For 3rd Class Cities

Harrisburg, Feb. 23 (AP)—Complete revamping of municipal operations was asked Tuesday for Pennsylvania's 46 third class cities.

Reps. Ray L. Riley (R-Lycoming) and H. G. Andrews (D-Cambria) submitted the plan, highlighted by a city manager form of government, in the face of concerted opposition by the League of Third Class Cities.

The proposal, if enacted into law, would allow a local referendum in those cities which ask for it. The present council or a petition of two per cent of the residents could bring about the referendum.

Once adopted, the council would pick a city manager for an indefinite term. He would have full administrative and appointive powers, reducing the mayor to the city's titular head for ceremonial purposes.

Foreign Aid For Europe And China Comes Up Today For Study In House

ACHESON WILL TALK ON CHINA WITH GOP GROUP

By JACK RUTLEDGE

Washington, Feb. 24 (AP)—Foreign aid for two sides of the world—China and Europe—came up for House study today.

Secretary of State Acheson was called to talk the Chinese situation over with 51 worried Republicans as the House Foreign Affairs committee wound up hearings on the $5,580,000,000 European aid bill.

Chairman Sol Bloom (D-NY) said the committee probably will approve the European recovery plan next week.

China Question Uncertain

But what the United States plans to do about the fate of struggling China is another matter. Some lawmakers fear it is too late to save China from Communism and that more aid would be a waste of money. Others disagree.

The government's position has not been made clear. The President told a news conference recently he had not made up his mind.

Acheson's meeting with the House Republicans today was the result of their requests for clarification.

Foreign capitals probably had their eyes also on the Senate Finance committee, working on a reciprocal trade bill. This measure, as favored by the administration, would allow the President to reduce import duties as much as 50 per cent in return for similar concessions from other nations.

GOP Sponsor Curb

Those opposing the plan—and Senator George (D-Ga.) concedes they may slow down action on the legislation—want to retain a Republican-sponsored curb that would let the federal tariff commission fix certain "peril points" below which the President could not cut tariffs without explaining why to Congress.

George said he hopes to have the bill ready for Senate action Monday in the form it passed the House—with curbs eliminated. One Democrat on the committee of seven Democrats and six Republicans holds the balance of power: Senator Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado, who has refused to disclose his stand.

The multi-billion dollar long range federal housing bill was placed before the full Senate Banking Committee today. But a proposed anti-segregation amendment offered yesterday by Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) could involve the bill in a civil rights fight.

Civil Rights Problem

The civil rights problem also threatened to thrust itself into the explosive Senate battle over a new labor bill.

The issue cropped up unexpectedly late yesterday as the Senate Labor Committee finally ended three and a half week's of hearings marked by bitter wrangling. Senators of both parties said they were seriously studying a suggestion that any new labor law should require unions to treat white and negro workers alike. Some unions now bar negroes, or give them special memberships.

This was brought up yesterday by two negro witnesses. It was a new angle in the administration's fight to repeal the Taft-Hartley act and replace it with a modified Wagner act with less "teeth" in it to curb emergency strikes and secondary boycotts. The battle mainly has been over these controls.

Schedule In Peril

The committee now goes into closed sessions. Next the bill—what ever bill the committee works up—will go to the Senate floor for public debate and vote. The debate may start late next month.

But the whole Senate schedule might possibly be thrown off balance by a filibuster touched off by an effort to change the Senate rules to kill the filibuster.

A southern Senator said today some of his Dixie colleagues might back a Republican effort to keep a civil rights debate going, and thus block a long string of top-priority administration bills.

The issue is due to come up Monday.

Seranton, Pa., Feb. 24 (AP)—The office of the housing expediter filed three suits in federal court Wednesday against alleged overcharging landlords.

Named as defendants were J. B. Hanks, Chambersburg; Kathryn Fowler Nonemaker, Middletown, and John A. Streb of State College.

ISRAEL-EGYPT PEACE PACT TO SET PATTERN

By L. S. CHAKALES

Rhodes, Feb. 24 (AP)—Egypt signed a general armistice with Israel today and the other Arab states lined up to do likewise.

By agreeing to the armistice, Egypt took the lead among the states of the Arab league in accepting the dynamic Jewish state which they vowed to destroy last May. The preamble specifically declares the agreement is a step to permanent peace in Palestine.

Pending a permanent settlement, broad demilitarized zones are created by which Egypt surrenders all Palestine except Gaza and its narrow coastal strip of about five miles wide. She even withdraws to a defensive line 17 to 30 miles inside her own frontier.

Israel Gets Negev

Israel is left in possession of nearly all the Negev, including disputed Beersheba for the time being. She has ambitious colonization schemes in the desert area.

Still to be settled are the fate of the southern tip of the Negev desert from Beersheba southward to the Red Sea, the central area of Palestine held by the Arab legion and Iraqis and the old part of Jerusalem.

These territorial questions will be determined largely by armistice negotiations with Trans-Jordan beginning here Monday.

The Egyptian agreement specifically states that territorial questions are subject to the final peace settlement. But there seems no doubt that this will be largely determined by the armistice line.

Sign With Ceremony

Significantly, Egypt concedes that insistence on the Jews retiring to their Oct. 14 lines would not serve the "basic purposes and spirit" of the armistice. These were the lines whence Israel launched her two offensives in October and December and won the Negev. She never returned to the old lines, even though the U. N. Security Council twice ordered her to do so.

The formal signing was at 10:30 a.m. in the yellow room of the Hotel Des Rhodes where Dr. Ralph Bunche, acting U. N. mediator, made his headquarters during 42 days of difficult negotiations.

The ceremony was the first open meeting since negotiations began here Jan. 13 to end the nine-months intermittent war. Photographers were allowed to take pictures during the signing and reporters were admitted to the proceedings.

Iraq To Approve

Col. Mohamed Ibrahim Self Eddin and Col. Rahmani signed for Egypt. For Israel the signers were Dr. Walter Eytan and Elias Sassoon of the foreign office and Col. Yigal Yadin, chief of staff.

Shortly after Bunche announced yesterday that Egypt had agreed to the signing he disclosed that Iraq had decided to approve whatever agreements are reached by the "neighbors of Palestine." These are Egypt, Syria, Lebanon and Trans-Jordan.

Saudi Arabia announced that she did not consider a formal armistice necessary, since she has not taken active part in the Arab war against Israel. Yemen, seventh member of the league also has not taken an active part.

WORLEY SAYS GOP BLOCKED HIS CRITICISM

Harrisburg, Feb. 24 (AP)—Rep. Francis Worley (R-Adams), at odds with administration on taxes, said Wednesday GOP House leaders refused to allow him to make a speech critical of the Republican party.

"I asked for unanimous consent when the House was at ease but Rep. Charles H. Brunner, Jr., the House leader, objected," Worley said. Brunner explained that he merely asked Worley to speak at another time because of the short session and said "I objected with the greatest reluctance."

Speech He Would Have Made

Worley said he had sought to make these comments: "They talked Republicanism last night in Philadelphia but I say to you what is wrong with the Republican party? The real trouble is that it is bossed by the wealth of the state instead of following the will of the people."

"You cannot take contributions nor meals from anyone without being obligated. If you are representing one interest alone, you are very likely to injure other interests and the public. Just let a political party in fact stop trying to fool the people and be in fact for the people and they will win elections from the people."

A number of members of the Legislature attended the dinner Tuesday night at Philadelphia of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association.

RUSSIANS MAY HAVE SECRET OF "DEATH SPRAY"

Mountain View, Calif., Feb. 24 (AP) — Russia quite possibly has the secret of a Nazi-developed liquid death spray potent enough to wipe out whole divisions of men in the open, says an American officer who helped destroy the weapon.

But Germany didn't use the spray, and Russia probably wouldn't for the same reason — it contaminates the area for too long a period — in the opinion of Maj. James M. Graham, a U. S. Army engineer.

The two German scientists who formulated the spray were in Berlin when the Russians took over and more than likely were taken in hand by the Soviets, Graham says.

125,000 Tons Destroyed
Whether chemical analysis of the liquid by its American captors yielded the secret, Graham didn't know.

Graham had charge of disposing of the spray, named Tabun after the names of its two inventors. He disclosed some of the details in a Chamber of Commerce speech at San Jose, Graham now lives in Mountain View.

Hidden stocks of Tabun — 125,000 tons of it — were found by American intelligence officers in Bavarian caves. Engineers built huge fires in pits to destroy the liquid. They poured it over the coals. Tabun didn't burn, but the heat broke it down and rendered it harmless.

Graham described Tabun as a nerve poison not unlike snake venom in its effect. Only quicker. A spot of it the size of a dime dropped on the skin would kill a man in two minutes unless wiped off quickly. It would penetrate most clothing, even some gas masks.

Has Faint Odor
Tabun has such a faint odor it can hardly be detected. The experienced nose can detect a slight fruity smell. In appearance it looks something like crankcase oil.

The liquid was a military secret until about six months ago when some information about it leaked out. About 1,000 tons of it was saved from destruction and shipped to Aberdeen, Md., under the label of "chlorine," Graham reported. But dock workers failed to smell chlorine in the shipment and refused to handle it. Special crews had to be used for the job.

Graham expressed belief the Russians probably wouldn't be interested in manufacturing Tabun even if they obtained the formula from the captive scientists. It is so potent and clings so long that the army using it might not be able to move ahead for months through the area sprayed.

Hymns In Jukebox Boost To Business

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 24 (AP) — Fugitives from juke box be-bop and ballads find solace at Otto Katt's Pearl street restaurant here.

For a nickel and a push at a button they can hear "hymns of the cross" or "Near the Cross."

Katt explains he added hymns to the juke box fare after more than 500 patrons petitioned for the change.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, sitting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

THREE-SENATOR PLAN ATTACKED

Topeka, Kas., Feb. 24 (AP)—A proposal to give each state three U. S. senators took a verbal spanking Wednesday from both Republican and Democrats.

But Sen. J. Howard McGrath (D-RI) who suggested the plan, said the opposition didn't faze him. He's going to keep plugging the proposal.

McGrath, chairman of the Democratic National committee, said in a Washington Day address to Kansas Democrats he would present his proposal to Congress this season. He said three senators instead of two would create a more efficient organization and speed legislative process.

Opposition rolled in almost immediately. Comments from Washington included these: Senator Morse (R-Ore): "It is obviously a suggestion without merit." Senator McKellar (R-Tenn.) dean and president pro tem of the Senate: "I am one of those old fashioned people who believe our form of government is the best in the world. I have

PROTECT YOUR CHILD AGAINST WHOOPING COUGH

★ World-wide in its distribution, whooping cough is endemic in large cities, becoming epidemic on a large scale every two to four years. The seriousness of pertussis, especially in young children, is evidenced by the mortality rate—about 26 percent in infants less than one year old.

Children should be vaccinated during the first year of life. Do not wait for an epidemic. It takes several weeks after vaccination for the body to produce antibodies. Ask your physician now about protection from whooping cough for your baby.

BRITCHER and BENDER DRUG STORE
GETTYSBURG, PA.

The state government committee reported for floor action legislation setting of a general state authority and a separate highway authority. The bills were introduced only last night.

The committee, headed by Rep. Ivan Watkins (R-Schuylkill) voted its approval of the bills at a meeting held before the House convened for the day's session.

"We are going to move these bills right along — but there is no particular hurry," Speaker Herbert P. Sorg, said as the legislation returned from committee. "We will give them all the study that is needed."

BELIEVE 'LOST LOOT OF LIMA' FOUND IN COCOS

Los Angeles, Feb. 24 (AP)—Searchers believe they have located the position of the fabulous "lost loot of Lima," pirate booty estimated to be worth $500,000,000. It supposedly is buried under the shore of tiny Cocos island off the west coast of Costa Rica.

Ellis Patterson, who sailed from here Jan. 21 with the 44th expedition to search for the pirate gold, returned by plane Tuesday night to report.

James A. Forbes, IV, claims that with the aid of metal detectors, he has located the treasure under the beach and at the mouth of a stream on the small island.

Using Old Maps
"At any rate," said Patterson, former Lieutenant Governor of California, "the machine showed a deposit of metal underground."

He said it was near the spot where bits of old sail canvas were found in Forbes' last previous unfruitful expedition. This is Forbes' fifth quest for the loot which he maintains is located on maps left by his great grandfather, James Alexander Forbes, I an educated pirate.

The treasure, as recorded in Spanish archives, consists of solid gold statues and other art objects, relics of the Spanish conquest.

Took Equipment Along
Forbes, IV, is a former baseball pitcher and superintendent of a fruit company at Riverside, Calif.

Patterson said 150 tons of excavating equipment carried aboard the remodeled landing craft, "Bolivar," should be unloaded on Cocos by next week-end and that soon afterward actual excavation should start. Previous estimates placed the treasure 32 feet deep.

Patterson said some members of the expedition plan to search up a stream for a second treasure, located on some ancient maps. He said some old British and Spanish coins were found in the stream. This treasure, he added, is supposed to be worth $30,000,000.

Littlestown

Littlestown — Commander Kenneth Steick was in charge of the semi-monthly meeting of the Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, VFW, held in the post home, West King street, Tuesday evening. Announcement was made that there will be a membership rally at the 21st district tonight at the VFW post home, East Berlin. A contribution of $5 was voted to the American Red Cross. There will be a shrimp feed on March 18 for the post members and the members of the home association. It was decided that beginning with the next meeting, the names of all members will be placed in some receptacle. At each meeting, there will be a drawing and the winner, if present, will receive $2. If not present, this sum will be added on to the drawing for the next meeting. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, March 8, when there will be nomination of officers for the next year. These nominations will remain open until Tuesday, March 22, when the elections will be held. The local post will be host to the 21st district on Sunday, March 27. The Ladies' auxiliary will meet in St. Aloysius hall and the

PROPOSAL FOR INCREASED AID ON ROADS UP

Harrisburg, Feb. 24 (AP)—A proposal for increased state aid and modified supervision of local roads popped up Wed. to complicate the administration plan to boost the state's gasoline tax to five cents a gallon.

A legislative committee, headed by Sen. John G. Snowden (R-Lycorn), recommended the change. Snowden also is chairman of the Senate Highways committee considering the controversial gas tax measure.

The lawmakers' group, set up originally in 1945, has been making a four-year study of highway financing in Pennsylvania. It delayed a report two years ago pending further study of the question of how much aid the state should give local subdivisions for highway work.

Committee's Recommendations: The committee recommended: A $6,596,000 increase every two years in the highway funds returned to local municipalities.

trative units in the state highways department to pass on all construction and maintenance projects in advance of the payment of state grants to local municipalities.

Snowden said Legislation to carry out the committee's recommendations has been drafted but declined to predict when it will be introduced.

Favor Aid Boost
He said the committee's report also will be considered in connection with the administration bill to boost the gasoline tax.

That measure, passed by the House after a controversy that split the votes of both Republicans and Democrats, also would continue for two years more the allocation of only $10,000,000 a year for distribution to local municipalities.

At present, aid is distributed on the basis of mileage and population. Payments this year are being made to cities, boroughs and first class townships at the rate of $386.95 a mile and to second class townships at the rate of $110.40 a mile.

The committee proposed that basic grants from now on be made at the rate of $400 a mile a year to cities, boroughs, towns and first class townships and $120 a mile for second-class townships.

State Would Pay Salaries
At the same time, it urged that the 45,502 miles of second class township roads be classified as primary and secondary roads according to their use and that supplemental grants on a matching basis be made for their improvements.

"The supplemental grants," the committee said, "should be for construction, reconstruction, resurfacing and surface maintenance only for types of roads classified as improved by the Department of Highways."

The local road supervision districts would be established at the rate of 400 miles or more of local roads in each unit with the state appointed supervisor acting as advisor to local authorities, aiding in obtaining road equipment and passing on construction and maintenance plans.

Salaries and expenses of the supervisors and their office would be paid by the state.

A surprise birthday party was given Mrs. R. M. Zacharias recently. Cards were played and refreshments served to: Mrs. R. M. Zacharias, Mrs. Robert Gillelan, Mrs. J. W. ## TAFT WARNS OF SOCIALISM IN US

Philadelphia, Feb. 24 (AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) sees a change in "the whole character of our government and of our people" if President Truman's fair deal program is enacted in full.

"Broadly speaking," he told the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association Tuesday, "I believe we face now the question whether we shall maintain a government based on liberty or establish a Labor-Socialist government very similar to that controlling the destinies of great Britain."

He listed the President's program as including a planned and controlled economy, a condition in which the bosses of labor unions become also the bosses of industry and their own members, and the establishment of a complete welfare state.

"The federal government now is going to subsidize all of those people who may be considered needy by some government bureau," he said. "I suppose that includes somewhere from ten to thirty million people and all of this is to be done under a very tight federal control out of some Washington bureau without regard to the interest of the taxpayer."

The GOP leader declared this program will "tremendously increase expenditure of government and taxes to be paid."

PUBLIC SAFETY COMMISSION IS URGED FOR PA.

Harrisburg, Feb. 24 (AP)—Creation of a Public Safety Commission in Pennsylvania was urged Wednesday by three Republican senators as a means of reducing highway accidents.

While our Commonwealth is in the forefront in the drive to reduce accidents, we don't want to leave anything undone," said Sen. Charles R. Mallory, Blair, one of the backers of the plan.

Mallory, along with Sens. John G. Stevenson, Clinton, introduced the Stevenson, Clinton, introduced a bill in the Senate yesterday calling for a $268,000 fund to set up and finance the proposed commission.

The commission would study and recommend elimination of safety hazards, conduct safety campaigns and organize local groups in safety committees. The membership would include the Secretary of Highways, Labor and Industry, Mines and Agriculture, the chairman of the Public Utility Commission, the State Police Commissioner and Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Other new Senate bills would: Appropriate $300,000 to the University of Pennsylvania hospital, Philadelphia, for free care — Israel Stiefel (D-Phila.).

Extend the dog training season 15 days from April 15 to April 30 — Montgomery F. Crowe (R-Montroe).

House Bills

New House bills would:

Cut the women's maximum work week from 48 hours to 40 hours and the daily hour limit from 10 to eight — Frank J. Pentrack (D-Cambria) and Louis Leonard (D-Allegheny).

Require payments of prevailing wages to state highways department laborers — Thomas J. Heatherington (D-Allegheny) and Robert D. Fleming (R-Allegheny).

Suspend for the 30 days the registration of trucks whose owners were convicted of overloading — George D. Stuart (R-Allegheny).

Motor Code Changes

Eliminate the 90-day automatic suspension of licenses of motorists convicted of speeding or reckless driving and replace it with a schedule calling for a 10-day suspension for the first offense, 60 days for the second offense and one year for the third offense — William R. McMillen (R-Indiana) and W. Stuart Helm (R-Armstrong).

Bring dump trucks used for hauling ashes, rubbish and construction materials under Public Utility Commission regulations—Earl E. Hewitt, Jr., (R-Indiana) and John R. Haudenshield (R-Allegheny).

Increase the maximum height allowed for trucks from 150 to 162 inches to cover automobile carriers — W. Stuart Helm and Mack Gutierrez (R-Armstrong).

February 28. Prizes will be awarded in the form of chickens, hams and other foodstuffs. The benefit is for the American Heart association to foster research on heart disease.

The local Boy Scout Troop No. 25 is sponsoring a door-to-door canvass this week throughout town to raise funds for scout projects. C. P. Keefe is in charge of the drive.

Members of the local 503 Club met during the week at the home of Mrs. Charles Chronister.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Bankert recently became the parents of a daughter, Carol Ann.

The construction of slipcovers for home furniture was the subject studied at the recent meeting of the

New Chester home economics group when they met at the home of Mrs. Charles Millhimes.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Polst were godparents at the recent baptism of Susan Elaine Noel, their granddaughter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Noel who was christened at the Catholic church in McSherrystown.

Mr. and Mrs. John Baugher announced the birth of a son, John Larry.

A number of persons from this area were among those attending the chicken and waffle supper on Saturday evening at Hanover for the benefit of St. Vincent's Catholic church.

Establishment Of Lottery Proposed

Harrisburg, Feb. 24 (AP)—The establishment of a state lottery in Pennsylvania was advocated Wednesday by three lawmakers as a means of paying for a veterans' bonus. A detailed plan setting up a five-man lottery commission was outlined in a House bill submitted yesterday by Reps. Albert L. Pfaff, William Lamber, and Louis A. Sternberg, Philadelphia Democrats.

The commission would be authorized to hold two lotteries a year based on a national or international sports event, somewhat similar to the Irish Sweepstakes.

The state would get 20 per cent of landed gentry of England.

the money from the sale of lottery tickets to pay for a proposed $500,000 bonus to Pennsylvania's 1,280,000 veterans of World War II.

The sponsors were unable to estimate what the lottery would produce.

The three also offered a bill to legalize horse race betting.

John Winthrop, governor of the Massachusetts Bay Colony and a founder of Boston, belonged to the Trolley lines in the United States once had special cars to carry milk and mail, also street sprinkling cars, and in one instance, a funeral car.

Death's Bright Angel

Chapter 11

The great dining table seemed curiously out of place when it became apparent that only a few places had been laid, on one end and side. Ducal Montfort was already at the head, and he inclined his head but did not attempt to rise.

The others were entering, to take their places. Bashan, hand still hovering near that great broadside, his glance eager and hostile upon Rivers. Going to the last seat near the foot, somewhat apart from all the others, Rivers noted.

Guinevere took her place at the left of David, then Rivers. Dikkon had left the room momentarily. He re-entered, and with him a slender, frail-looking woman, who paused for a moment to lift great blue eyes to Rivers, and whose breath caught sharply in a sob. She had hair like fine spun gold, a face almost ethereal in its beauty, and there was pain and suffering there. One glance assured him that she was no Montfort.

Only for a moment did she pause, then advanced with Dikkon, whose eyes were stormy. All color had drained from her face, and Rivers was quick to feel the tension in the room. A rumbling growl came from the throat of Ducal—a growl curiously composed of anger and tenderness.

"I didn't expect you, Maria—but Rivers answered mechanically. His mind was upon the tangle which Don Fernando had created, in the center of which he now found himself. Donna Dolores, Irene, Maria. Somehow the meal dragged to an end. At its conclusion the others fled from the room—all save Maria, who remained in her seat, eyes downcast, blushing and paling by turns.

Rivers remained standing, holding to the back of his chair, knuckles showing white. Liking what lay ahead far less than if it had been a clash of swords with the mighty Bashan.

For a moment he stood, then sank down again. As though his gesture had reassured her, Maria stood up and crossed to him. Then she sat on the floor beside him, curled like a sleepy kitten.

"At last," she sighed, and then he saw that she too was skilled at playing a part, for her whisper was for his ears alone.

"You are not Fernando," she said. "And I hardly know whether to be glad or sorry. But you are enough like him that you have fooled the rest of them. For a while even I was in doubt. Fernando has tricked you to his purposes, just as he has done with so many others. Confess now. You did not know what was expected of you, when you came here?"

"Not much of it," he agreed. "I didn't know about you."

"Nor that he had promised, if given a year in which to complete his affairs—a year required for the honor of the Gonzales—that he would return to die. Instead he sends you—and all on account of me! What a fool I was to think that I loved him! When he broke his promise, all the others were furious, and so was I. But it was a kindness which he did me, however unwittingly. He is small-souled. Now I know that I never really loved him. I only thought I did."

She was a strange, gentle creature, far different from the tempestuous Irene. Back of all this, he sensed, was a concern for himself and his welfare.

"Tell me," she said. "Who are you?"

"I'm nobody," he said. "Jean Rivers. From everywhere and nowhere."

"There was a woman on board ship with you. She is lodged now at the Royal. Who is she?"

"Another to whom Don Fernando had pledged himself."

"And he figured for you to take his place there too, eh?"

"That seemed to be the general idea."

"And you did not know of this?"

"What do you think?"

"Knowing Fernando,—and now meeting you. I would say that you did not. But because you are you, you played the part. Was she deceived?"

"She had scarcely seen him for three or four years."

"Ah! Which means that she loved you!"

"And you—is it that you love her, too?"

"I scarcely know her," Rivers protested.

"I will pray for you," she whispered. She was gone from the room before he realized it. Rivers raised his head with a jerk, as though

SCRIBE ASSERTS NORWAY ONE OF ATOMIC POWERS

By DANIEL DELUCE
Oslo, Norway, Feb. 24 (AP)—Behind Russia's burning desire to keep Norway isolated from the west is a hush-hush fact: Norway is an atomic power.

A atomic pile—the apparatus which stores up power from nuclear fission—is already in existence in a secret Norwegian laboratory.

Heavy water, an essential in atomic research, is being produced in greater quantities than ever at the Norsk Hydro works in the wild and beautiful mountain fastnesses of southern Norway.

Scientists Welcome
Uranium is being mined in central Norway. More than one Norwegian city has a cyclotron.

Soviet counter-intelligence is cognizant of these facts. What effects they are having, or will have in the future, on Moscow's policy toward this had been all a dream. If so, this was the awakening!

Norway is a 64-ruble question. Russia's interest in atomic developments here is manifested in diverse ways. Communists fail to disguise their hunger for scraps of information. Soviet Ambassador S. A. Afanasiev is understood to be ready to welcome any Norwegian scientist who wishes to call. None have.

As near as a foreign layman can ascertain, the Norwegians are not toying with A-bombs. Their research is concentrated on ways and means of using atomic energy for peace. But even in this field, Russia is insatiably curious.

atomic power as if it were old stuff like last year's ski championships. Actually, they're proud of their country's achievements. But they are sensitive about the international tension which the mere mention of an atom creates.

Norway has made a documentary film of wartime sabotage exploits with the title, "The Fight for Heavy Water." Paris reviewers have acclaimed it. Yet it hasn't been shown in Britain and the United States.
